MURDERED AND ROBBED.

A hysterical girl about 20 years old her face covered with blood and her clothes torn and tumbled, beat upon the door of a lonely house near the New York, Susquehanna and Western Railroad tracks on the outskirts of Passaic Junction, N. J., a few minutes before 10 o'clock Saturday night, and cried for admission. Some Italians who lived there opened the door, but they could not understand the girl's speech, it being in German. They took her down the road to the home of Charles Wunder, near at hand, and Wunder being able to understand German, took the girl in.

"Something's happened to my mother," the girl gasped. "Something's happened to me. See the blood. I think it's robbers. They're back here on the railroad track. My mother's back there on the track, too, I think."

Wunder and his wife took the girl to the light and saw that she was bleeding from two wounds. One had scored the right cheek just under the eye, and the bullet, for that was what had evidently caused the abrasion of the skin, had passed up through the brim of her hat. A red gash on the right side of her neck just below the ear stained her gown. She told them that the bullet causing that wound had cut the gold chain of a locket about her neck, and that the trinket had dropped off the minute that she felt the sting in her neck.

When Wunder's wife undressed the girl to put her to bed she found that a third bullet had ripped the flesh of her left arm, scored her back, and flattened against one of her corset steels.

Ottilie Eberhard, was her name, the girl told Wunder. All else that she could say was that she and her mother had been walking with her cousin along the railroad track somewhere back up in the darkness and that her mother had fallen. Then her cousin, Gus Eberhard was his name, she said, had told her to run. She had run, and as she ran she had felt the twinges in her face and along the side. More than that Wunder could not learn, for the girl had come out of the darkness flighty with hysteria.

Yesterday, the young woman having become more composed, went to the Edgewood morgue, where she identified the body of her mother. Later Miss Eberhard told the story of how she and her mother happened to be on the Susquehanna tracks at such a lonely spot at night.

They came from Vienna, Austria, the girl said, where her mother was married and where she was born. Her father had been dead about twenty years and she and her mother had supported themselves by dressmaking. While she lived in Vienna she had known from girlhood the son of one of her mother's cousins. Gus Eberhard was his name. She and Gus had been friends in a casual sort of way and latterly, since Gus left Austria for America five years ago, they had been lovers. Eberhard, she said, had induced her mother to sell her business in Vienna and come to this country, and on Saturday night had prevailed upon her mother and herself to accompany him to the place where the shooting took place.

That robbery had been the motive was established beyond a doubt, for in the little chamois bag about the neck of Mrs. Eberhard nothing of the $2,500 she had when she left New York Saturday afternoon remained but $120 in Austrian kronen.

Although the authorities have been searching for Gus, they have as yet found no clew.

WRECKED WITH DYNAMITE.

The colored Odd Fellows hall and meeting place for the Royal Order of Joseph, at Arvonia, Va., was wrecked with dynamite at an early hour yesterday morning. The building is located in the extreme western section of Arvonia, where a large number of negroes live. Great preparations had been in progress for several days for a sort of feast or field day at the hall and on the lot in which the hall is situated. It was evidently the purpose of the unknown persons who applied the dynamite to have the spectacle of a scattered mass of ruins ready for the crowd when it assembled yesterday. As it was, the building was badly damaged, but is still left standing.

The explosion occurred about 3 or 4 o'clock. Everybody living in the immediate section was awakened and many of the colored people ran from their homes, thinking the shock an earthquake.

The colored people connect the attempt to blow up the building with the trouble which occurred at the place on the Fourth of July, when in a drunken riot some negroes and white men had a disturbance. At the time double-barreled guns were brought out and bloodshed was narrowly averted.

Bert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says: "I have only taken four doses of DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done." Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

MONDAY EVENING, JULY 20, 1908.

THE presidential fight this year will be waged between the money power and the people, and there is no use in disguising the fact that the money power represented by the republican party comes pretty close to having the majority. The republican campaign fund will be enormous, and will be divided between that for the legitimate expenses of the campaign, the items of which Mr. Taft declares will be published "after election," another secret campaign fund, which will never see the light of day but will be distributed to the republican machines of the doubtful states and thence for the corruption of venal voters. All the tariff protected interests and the railroad corporations, and all the Wall street financiers and the "malefactors of great wealth," will be forced to contribute to the republican campaign fund. The records of their evasion of the laws of the land have been carefully investigated by special agents of the republican administration, and the evidence that would convict them is in the archives of the Interstate Commerce Commission, or the Department of Commerce and Labor. The chairman and treasurer of the republican national committee will have the list and know just how much to assess each malefactor. How much the magnates of the Standard Oil trust will pay for immunity and for escape from the large fines hanging over their heads will never be known to the public, but that the amount will reach into the millions does not need evidence to prove it, or that it will be paid when called for.

COINCIDENT with the dawning triumph of aerial navigation comes the unearthing of a record of a grand adventure of the world's first great navigator and explorer. His name was Peteneith, and he lived in Egypt 2000 years before Columbus discovered America. His great exploit was the circumnavigation of Africa, a voyage more than three times as long as that of Columbus. It occupied him nearly five years. The story is told on two large scarabs which recently came into the possession of the Brussels Museum from a private collection. The first scarab was engraved for King Nechao II, 610 B. C., to commemorate the voyage. It has been discovered that aerial ships were made over two hundred years ago. Truly there is nothing new under the sun.

THE VEXED QUESTION as to whether the republicans would follow the lead of the democrats and reject corporation contributions for campaign purposes was settled at Hot Springs Saturday when Mr. Taft declared: "The national republican committee will accept no contributions from corporations." Mr. Roosevelt adopted as his the policies of the democratic party and now his candidate for the presidency will follow the plan of Mr. Bryan concerning contributions to his campaign fund—or says he will. But the money of the corporations will just as surely find its way into the republican national committee's treasury as the election comes off.

THE REPUBLICAN papers say the senatorial fight and the presidential contest are not to be allowed to get mixed in Ohio. But who is to prevent the mix-up?

MR. TAFT has concluded to make no speaking tours in the coming campaign. A joint debate between Mr. Bryan and Mr. Taft would be very interesting.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, July 20.

Citation for contempt was issued by Justice Gould, of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, this afternoon against President Samuel Gompers, Vice President John Mitchell and Secretary Frank Morrison, of the American Federation of Labor. The writ is made returnable September 8, and the officials named are to show cause on that date why they should not be punished for alleged violation of the injunction issued last March, forbidding them further to refer in print or by speech to the Bucks Stove and Range Company, of St. Louis, Mo., as an "unfair" concern.

Originally desiring to find ninety examiners to audit the books of the American railroads, the Interstate Commerce Commission is now searching for some relief from the army of men who want the jobs. It is convinced the woods are full of the best examiner that any country ever produced. Under the direction of Chief Examiner Charles A. Lutz, this force will examine the books of the railroads to ascertain whether the prescribed forms of all accounts, records and memoranda, showing the movement of traffic, as well as the receipts and expenditures of money, are followed. Already, three of the largest railroads have requested the commission to put examiners at work on their books at once, in order that any oversights in their system may be corrected. The commission has decided the best way to relieve the pressure from the hundreds who want the new jobs is to have the civil service commission conduct a competitive examination of applicants. The new places will pay $2,000 per annum.

Preliminary work on the arrangements for the American exhibit at the Tokio Exposition in 1912, has begun in this city. Headquarters of the commission, consisting of Francis B. Loomis, former assistant secretary of state; Francis D. Millet, of New York, and J. V. Skiff, of Chicago, have been opened in the Hibbs building, with William A. Newcombe, of California, private Secretary of State Bacon in charge. Commissioners Loomis and Millet will sail from San Francisco about September 2 to inspect the exposition grounds at Tokyo, with a view of drafting recommendations to Congress relative to the locations and buildings the United States proposes to build there. It is planned to have Secretary J. Callan O'Laughlin, secretary of the commission, visit the various state capitals next winter, to confer with the governors, and make arrangements for state exhibits.

Captain Mayo, in command of the United States cruiser Albany, which is at Amapala, Honduras, reported to the Navy Department today that it has been officially declared there that "the revolution had been completely crushed and that tranquility now prevails." On Saturday, at the request of Captain Mayor, he was given permission by the Navy Department to return to Panama, for the purpose of putting in hospital there Second Lieutenant Caperon of the Marine Corps who was threatened with an attack of appendicitis. Today, however, Captain Mayo reports that Lieutenant Caperon is rapidly recovering.

The official lid-sitter is temporarily off his job. Today the administration, as far as Washington is concerned, is without a head. Not a single solitary cabinet officer remains in the national capital. Up until yesterday, Secretary of War Wright, whose record of attaining the eminence of official lid-sitter in just sixteen days from his appointment to the cabinet, is unprecedented, was very much on the job here. Today, however, the war secretary arrives in Chattanooga, Tenn., with General J. Franklin Bell, chief of staff of the army, to review the troops at Fort Taft.

The slump in the immigration to the United States still continues. According to a statement given out by the immigration Bureau today, only 31,847 aliens gained admittance to this country during June—a decrease of 73 per cent over the figures for the same month last year, when 154,734 came in. As usual, Russia furnished the largest number of immigrants, 6,202 last month; this is a decrease of 79 per cent over June, 1907.

Disappointment was carried today to a number of rear admirals on the retired list by the opinion of the Comptroller of the Treasury when he decided they should not share in the general increase of the salaries of naval officers, made by congress last winter.

THE FIRST VIRGINIA.

With thinning ranks and whitening heads, the survivors of the old First Virginia Regiment met Saturday in reunion at Forrest Hill Park, Richmond, the forty-seventh anniversary of their baptism of fire at Blackburn's Ford, across Bull Run. Forty-seven years ago Saturday the old First, then untried troops, first came under fire when they checked McDowell's attempt to turn General Beauregard's left at Bull Run, until Johnson could come up and turn the tide in that first great battle of the civil war.

In the center of the pavilion at Forrest Hill Park stood the faded, silken, battle-scarred, regimental flag presented to the First by Beauregard himself. Around it rallied the veterans and swapped song and story until Secretary Chas. T. Loehr, the man behind the entertainment arrangements, marshaled the regiment for dinner. Some thirty odd members of the regiment, besides a number of visitors, were present. The appearance of Col. W. H. Palmer, president of the association, was hailed with cheers. S. M. Gregory, of Stuart's Cavalry, and one of Stuart's troubadours, too, was also present with his banjo.

From Baltimore came George Eubank, drummer boy of the regiment during the war. Thomas H. Haley, of Company D, came all the way from Florida.

DEATH FROM VACCINATION.

Lillian Veasey, 14 years old, died Saturday at her home, in Newark, N. J., from blood poisoning, resulting, in the opinion of Dr. Robert C. Ribbans, the attending physician, from vaccination.

Three weeks ago the girl went to the city dispensary, conducted by the board of health, and was vaccinated along with 300 other children.

The girl has been vaccinated four times before, but always without a successful "take." This time, however, the vaccine inoculated her and her arm became sore and swollen.

Last Monday the pain became so intense that she went back to the dispensary and informed the physician in charge. It is said the latter, after an examination of her arm, told Lillian she need have no fear of the consequences, as it would be all right in a few days. The next day the arm had swollen still more and the pain was more excessive.

Lillian went to Dr. Ribbans, who found that blood poisoning had set in. He said the complication was due either to the use of infected vaccine or from the infection of the wound after the vaccination had taken place. He tried to relieve the sufferings of the patient, but without avail, and Saturday she died in great agony.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

An all-night beer banquet in Hillsburg, Ind., in which cards were played for high stakes, culminated early yesterday morning in the murder of Claude Pruitt by Clarence Jones, a young business man, who fired a bullet into his own brain while the police were looking for him.

Jones had lost heavily in a game of poker, and at its close intimated that he had been swindled. Words passed between him and Pruitt, when Jones put his hand behind him as though to draw a revolver. As he did so, Pruitt remarked that if he did draw that thing on him he would make him eat it. Jones presented the revolver and fired one shot, the bullet entering Pruitt's brain and causing instant death. Jones ran from the house and a moment later shot himself through the head. Pruitt was a wealthy young farmer.

Mrs. Lucy Shifflett, wife of Samuel Shifflett, was drowned in the Shenandoah river Saturday night near Yancey, Rockingham, county. Mrs. Shifflett had rowed across the river to bring across a passenger. Returning the boat sprang aleak and sank. Isaac Hudlow, the only other occupant, managed to reach the shore.

News of the Day.

The anti-foreign fight in Mexico is increasing and a bitter controversy is being waged by the newspapers.

Forty passengers from the launch San Gabriel, which foundered near Corregidor Island, were picked up and landed at Manila on Saturday.

Several years ago one woman gave another a cup of coffee in a Boston station and a reward in the form of $3,000 has just been sent to the benefactor.

Quebec's celebration in honor of the three hundredth anniversary of the founding of the settlement by Champlain, begins today. The prince of Wales will represent the British government, and Vice-President Fairbanks the United States government.

The bodies of two baby boys that were found in the East river, off Greenpoint, N. Y., on Saturday and one yesterday have been identified as sons of Mrs. Gussie Benson, aged 28, of Jamestown, N. Y., whose body was found in the East river at the foot of 63d street, Manhattan, today.

Standing on the steps of his store at Slanesville, Hampshire county, W. Va., Thursday night, John W. Chapman, 60 years old, one of the wealthiest and best known men of the county, was shot and killed from ambush. The motive is believed to be robbery. Incendiaries recently burned some of his property there.

Representative Glenn, who introduced a bill in the Georgia legislature to prevent women from wearing rainbow stockings, peek-a-boo waists, and other alluring apparel, alleging that by such devices men were frequently traped into matrimony, is being overwhelmed with threatening letters from women in various parts of the country.

Detectives raided a room in the Kimball House, Atlanta, yesterday afternoon and arrested five members of the Georgia legislature, who were engaged in a game of poker for high stakes. The present legislature is known as the reform body, but the recent discovery of a blind tiger in the capitol and of a legislative gambling room yesterday has caused many to doubt the genuineness of its reform professions.

Mrs. Philip Mitchell, of Mount Clemens, Mich., who is supposed to be insane, poured oil from a lamp over her sleeping husband and then saturated her own night dress. She then set her own night dress on fire and sprang into bed beside her husband. Mitchell was awakened by the fire. He leaped out of bed and smothered the flames with a rug. Mrs. Mitchell was horribly burned about her body.

Virginia News.

Vice presidential candidate John W. Kern will visit his old home and his sister in Virginia this summer.

A colored woman fainted at Richmond as she was raising a communion goblet to her lips in church yesterday and caused much excitement.

A cablegram from Manila announces the death there of Thomas Colston Kinney, aged 42, a native of Staunton, son of the late Maj. A. F. Kinney. He was a prominent lawyer.

For the second time this year the Norfolk and Western Railroad Company has submitted to its employes a proposition looking to a reduction of wages to remain in force "until normal business conditions are restored."

Mrs. Judith Cornelia Nicoll Blair, widow of Col. William B. Blair, U. S. A. and C. S. A., late professor in the Virginia Military Institute, and daughter of Henry Woodhull Nicoll, of New York city, died at Lexington, yesterday. She was eighty-five years old. She is survived by her daughter Mrs. Anderson, wife of Attorney General William M. Anderson.

Sheriff Marshall, of Warren county, received word at an early hour yesterday that the four convicts who escaped from their camp near Orange Courthouse, a few days ago, were in close vicinity to Front Royal. He was fortunate to find Company D, Seventy-second Regiment, in camp preparatory to its encampment at Chickamauga Park, Tennessee. He called for assistance and Lieutenant Waller and 35 men were on the march within five minutes after the call. The men were "double-quicked" for eight miles, when they surrounded a gulley and closed in, only to find their birds flown.

Accused of criminally assaulting Nettie Southall, Robert Gilliam, in Nansemond Circuit Court Saturday evening secured a sudden acquittal when it was shown that the vital statistics of the family Bible had been tampered with. The girl and her mother swore she was only 13, and the Bible date of her birth read May 8, 1895. The "95" was written in different colored ink, and a microscopic examination brought out portions of a "4," over which the last "5" had been traced. The gravity of the crime depending on whether the girl was 14 or under the prosecutor gave up the case and instructed the jury to acquit.

FIRE IN RICHMOND.

Eating at the heart of Richmond's principal business section, fire shortly after 10 o'clock last night almost totally wrecked the establishment of G. & A. Bargamin, wholesale dealers in plumbers' supplies, threatened the building next door, occupied by the Electrical Construction Company, and caused alarm, as in the immediate vicinity are located the Chamber of Commerce and the Mutual office building, the most imposing of Richmond's skyscrapers.

Sixty thousand dollars is given as a conservative estimate of the damage, while the loss may far exceed this figure. The loss is covered by insurance. The fire broke out from some unknown cause in the front of the Bargamin building. The blaze was under control at 12:30.

W. A. Green, of 615 North Fifth street, a fireman, was struck on the head by an axe in the hands of a comrade. His injuries are probably fatal.

A DENIAL.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette:

Dear Sir: I noticed in one of your editions of last week where I was attending a meeting of the independent league held at Richmond. I wish you would please correct this as I was in Baltimore at that date and also state that I am not a member of the league.

Yours respectfully,

B. WOLLBERG.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Olympic Games.

London, July 20.—The withdrawal of several nations from the Olympic games before the end of the week is threatened as a result of the growing disgust on the part of the foreign teams over the management and the open charges that the British Olympic committee is showing favoritism to the home athletes. So far the grumblings come largely from individual athletes, but they are so widespread and apparently so well-founded that there is danger that the complaints will crystallize into a united outbreak against the methods that have been employed.

The American and French teams are particularly wroth at the treatment accorded their representatives. There is no danger, however, of the American team withdrawing, as the Yankees intend to take the medicine, no matter how bitter. The French are not so even tempered and today found them on the point of revolting.

Today's programme was the most interesting of the meet, especially from the American's standpoint. It embraced two events in which they expected to score, the final in the 100 meter swim and the final in the standing broad jump, and three events in which they hoped to qualify for future points, the 100 meter dash, 400 meter hurdles and 800 meter run.

C. M. Daniels, American, won the final in the 100 meter swim. Time 1:05 3-5. Ties world's record.

Electrocution of Murderers.

Ossining, N. Y., July 20.—Charles H. Rogers, of Middletown, N. Y., the slayer of Willis C. and Fred R. Olney and Alice Ingerick, the 19-year-old daughter of Mrs. George Ingerick, housekeeper for the Olney's, was electrocuted at Sing Sing prison at 5:54 this morning.

Twenty minutes later Anglo Laudiero, an Italian, known as "the terror of Mulberry Bend," died in the same chair, paying the death penalty for the murder of Don Michele d'Ambro, a contractor, whom he killed last September.

The crime for which Rogers went to the electric chair is one of the most brutal in the criminal history of the state. The prisoner slew three persons and attempted to kill the fourth, Mrs. Ingerick, the mother of the girl victim, all for the purpose of securing what little money his victims had in their possession. The entire sum he secured was $16.

New Zealander Recovers His Money.

New York, July 20.— Quick gun action by C. T. Harker, a Christ Church New Zealander, saved him $400 here from bogus ranchmen of Waco, Tex., who today is dodging the police here. Haker and a stranger, who said he was H. O. Taylor, from the Lone Star State, were watching animals in the Central Park Zoo when a third man joined them. Illustrating the perils of a great city where confidence men, they said, were thick as leaves in Valambrosa, the two soon had Harker's $400. Then Taylor tried to make his "get away." "Come back" said the New Zealander, as he poked a big 45 gun against the "Texans" ear. He came back and handed over the $400. When Harker told the police the parrots of his two "friends" were found in the Rogues Gallery.

Searching for Murderer.

New York, July 20.—Police of every city in the country today are on the lookout for August Eberhardt, of 39 St. Nicholas Place, Manhattan, who is wanted in connection with the murder of his aunt, Mrs. Ollie Eberhardt, and the attempted murder of her daughter on the railroad tracks near Coalburg, N. J. It is believed that Eberhart lured his aunt and her daughter here from their home in Austria with the intention of killing them for the little fortune he knew they possessed. The murderer of Mrs. Eberhardt took $2,450 from the bosom of her dress after shooting her through the heart and brain and then threw her body before a train where, frightfully mangled, it was found when the girl, who had been shot three times, gave the alarm.

Accident on Battleship.

Honolulu, July 20.—Three men were seriously injured and a score of others narrowly escaped a serious disaster when a tube in the forward boiler of the battleship Kearsage burst late Saturday night. The official report of the accident was just made public today. Owing to the fact that the vessel was under full steam and but few of the crew were below decks at the time, the accident was not nearly so serious as it would have been under normal conditions. All three of the injured men were badly scalded, but the prompt work of their comrades in rushing into the steam filled room and dragging them to safety, prevented any loss of life. The fires under the boiler were drowned at the first intimation of trouble.

Kissing Epidemic.

Richmond, Ind., July 20.—Kissing is epidemic here of late among followers of Rev. William Crabb, whose sect is known as the "Church of the First Born," and measures today are threatened to stop the practice. Every member of the sect has the right to bestow the "sacred kiss" upon the forehead, cheek and mouth of another. Neglect of the forehead and cheek and a too plentiful resort to the mouths of the sect's adherents have awakened the authorities to the necessity for action.

Struck by Electric Car.

San Francisco, July 20.—Twenty members of a tallo-ho party were scattered about the road at Colma, near here, when a San Mateo electric car smashed their vehicle, and today five of them are still in a precarious condition. The tallo-ho was crossing the electric car line near Colma when the trolley rounded a curve. The motorman put the brakes down hard, but the car's momentum was too great to be checked and it struck the coach at the rear, throwing the passengers in all directions.

Price Set on His Head.

Sacramento, Cal., July 20.—Chinese highbinders here have set a price on the head of District Attorney Eugene S. Wachorst following his success in obtaining a conviction for murder against Gin Sale, who killed another Oriental. This is the first time that highbinders have set a price on a white man's head, and Wachorst, realizing that the yellow men mean business, is being specially guarded.

The Redif Mutineers.

Vienna, July 20.—Numerous mutinies among the redifs, which embrace the second reserve of Turkey's military force, have taken place, according to news received here today. The redif mutineers are joining the mutinous garrison forces and swelling the army that threatens a march against Constantinople. There is danger that the entire second reserve will become affected, as the "young Turkey" idea is deep-rooted among the redifs.

The mutineers at Seres and Salonica have issued a proclamation threatening death to all who refuse to join their ranks.

Assassination is playing a prominent part in the uprising, and it is reported that several officers have been slain. Turkish officials are resorting to heroic measures to suppress all news of the uprising and only an occasional message comes through uncensored.

Vienna, July 20.—Macedonian rebels, under the leadership of mutinous soldiers, today held up a military train, bound from Salonica to Uskub, killed the train crew and military escort and looted it of its supplies of ammunition. The Turkish commander in Salonica was notified and ordered the troops now stationed in eastern Macedonia to come immediately. The troops openly refused to leave and threatened their officers with death. This refusal was wholly unexpected, for the eastern part of Macedonia was not believed to be affected by the uprising.

Skull Crushed.

New York, July 20.—His skulled crushed, Jos. Murphy, 30 years old, of Midland, Ont., dangled by the hand from the roof of a car of the New York Central fast mail when that train pulled into the Grand Central station today. Three men with him, who were also "beating" their way, formed a human chain and held him for two miles after he had struck a girder in the New York Central tunnel. Murphy is dying in Flower Hospital. John Conley, of Buffalo; Michael Mara, of Cincinnati, and George McCormick of Flushing, Long Island, who were Murphy's companions on his fatal ride, are being held by the police as suspicious persons. The men had been working in Canada, lost their places, and being without money started to "beat" their way to New York.

Nonsensical War Talk.

Chicago, July 20.—The tug of war between the United States and Japan and the recent warlike speech of Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson are both nonsense, accordiag to Thomas J. O'Brien, United States Minister to Japan, who stopped here for a few hours today on his way to his home in Grand Rapids, Mich.

"There is no more chance of war with Japan," O'Brien declares, "than there is with any other country. Japan's ambitions are commercial rather than military."

O'Brien said Hobson speech in Congress and his Denver speech were published widely in Japan, and had an unfortunate effect.

Killed Wife and Paramour.

El Reno, Okl., July 20.—Claiming the "unwritten law" as his defense, James Loustoy, a barber, today expressed no regret for killing his wife and W. T. Woods, whom he alleges he found with the woman in his home. Leuesby has been working in Clamer for sometime and made irregular visits home.

When he reached home early Sunday, he declares, he met Woods. Denied admittance, he fired through the door, killing Woods. Mrs. Leustby escaped. As her husband was about to leave after making sure Woods was dead, he saw the woman returning. He hid inside until she entered, then put a bullet through her heart. He surrendered.

Battleships at Manila.

Manila, July 20.—The battleships Maine and Alabama, the pathfinders for the American fleet in its around-the-world cruise, are today in Manila harbor. They arrived one day ahead of their schedule. A noisy welcome awaited the battleships. Hundreds of gaily decorated craft of every sort took part in the demonstration. The town, too, is in gay colors and playing the host for the men and officers of the ships in royal style. What the city will do when the fleet arrives it is hard to say, judging from the cordially expended on the advance guard.

Philadelphian Attacked and Robbed.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 20.—Suffering from internal injuries, his nose and left leg broken and with many cuts and bruises on his face and body, a man supposed to be William M. Dickinson, of No. 1103 Walnut street Philadelphia, was found unconscious here today near the Herr's Island bridge. His condition is critical. The police here suspect that he was robbed and then thrown over the bridge. A card found in his pocket bore the above name and address.

Laws for Airships.

Kisseme, Fla., July 20.—Though no one in this town has ever seen an airship, Mayor T. M. Murphy has prepared an ordinance with a $500 fine for overspeeding them, and for the purposes of its enforcement would have the town's jurisdiction proclaimed over 25 miles of air straight up. Section two of the ordidance as drawn fixes a $100 tax on all dirigibles and section three provides for the purchase of aeroplanes in which the town marshal will chase offenders.

Woman's Fight With Footpads.

Greenwich, Conn., July 20.—With her head badly gashed from a razor stroke, Mrs. Rose Strauss is a heroine to her friends here today after a hot battle in which she resisted three footpads. Mrs. Strauss was driving to her home when one man seized her horse's head and two others the buggy wheels. With teeth, fists and nails Mrs. Strauss fought off her assailants and fled after being wounded by the razor.

New York Stock Market.

New York, July 20.—The feature of the trading during the first hour was strength demonstrated in the establishment of new high price levels. The tone was decidedly strong at the start, but after an hour hardly any issue showed a gain of as much as one full point, although a number of stocks made net net advances to sell at the highest prices of the year.

Ex-Judge Roger A. Pryor now of New York celebrated his eightieth birthday yesterday and predicted the election of Bryan.

Taft Dedicates Courthouse.

Hot Springs, Va., July 20.—With a short talk on "administration of justice" in which he referred to Jefferson, Chief Justice Marshall and other great Virginia jurists, Candidate Taft today formally dedicated the handsome Bath county court house at Germantown.

While he has not definitely declared his intentions, it is understood that Taft will follow the McKinley plan as to speeches during the coming campaign. He will, it is believed, conduct a front porch canvass, speaking only a few times from the steps of his house in Cincinnati. He has already refused to speak at the opening of the agricultural fair at Syracuse, N. Y.

THE ALLEYS.

There has been a good deal said recently regarding different unsanitary conditions existing in Alexandria. I wish to call especial attention to the alley running parallel with King street, between King and Cameron and Columbus and Washington streets—exactly in the heart of a business and residential district.

Its condition is intolerable and would not, I am sure, be countenanced in any other town in the whole country. It is a disgrace, and more so that the hundreds of tourists constantly visiting Christ Church should see the bad condition this particular alley is in.

If those in power to remedy such things have no care or thought for the health and well-being of the people is it possible that they are lacking in a sense of shame that they have not the pride to wish commendation?

The mayor, health officer, chief of police and several other city officials have been approached with a view to having something done in this case, but without avail. They all seem to be in doubt as to whose duty it is. One will say the property owner must attend to it; another that it will be referred to the proper officer, etc., etc.

The paving of this alley is worn into holes and hummocks and all the waste water from the kitchens opening into it stands until it is stagnant and covered with green slime. It is a breeding place for flies and mosquitos; a culture field for fevers and other malignant diseases. Is there no remedy?

Must those who are forced by business to live near it put up with its filth the balance of this long, hot summer? Must the babies and little children continue to inhale the vile odors from this place, perhaps breathing in fever germs that will later eat out their little lives?

Will somebody tell an anxious mother who cannot get away from town how she may save her babies from the dangers of this real menace to their health?

ANXIOUS MOTHER.

Another romance has been added to the life of Mrs. Minna Field Gibson. Saturday night in York Harbor, Maine, the summer home of her mother, Mrs. Thomas Nelson Page, Mrs. Gibson became the bride of Algernon Burnaby, of England.

Fire in a Tenement House.

New York, July 20.—Thirty families were routed out of their beds and thrown into a panic by a fire which gutted the four-story tenement house at No. 228-230 south Third street, Brooklyn, early this morning. There were several hairbreadth escapes, the most fortunate of Bessie and Angela Moeratein, whose mother had left them in the top floor flat, forgetting them in her excitement. The babies were found peacefully sleeping by firemen in the smoke filled room. Benjamin Siegel and his wife were badly injured. Siegel threw his unconscious wife twelve feet into the court yard and then jumped after her. They were taken to the Williamsburg Hospital.

Official.

AN ORDINANCE to provide for the grading, paving and curbing of Payne street from the north crossing of Cameron street to the north crossing of Queen street, under certain conditions.

Section 1. Be it ordained by the City Council of Alexandria, Virginia, that the Committee on Streets is hereby authorized and directed to have Payne street from the north crossing of Cameron street to the north crossing of Queen street, with the exception as described in section 3 of this ordinance, graded and paved from curb to curb and to have said street, as above described, curbed in a good and substantial manner, under the supervision of the City Engineer, using for the paving twelve inches vitrified brick gutters edged with three and one-half feet of cobble and broken stone roadway, and for the curbing a seven inches cement curb.

And the said Committee on Streets shall advertise for ten (10) days in some newspaper published in the city of Alexandria, Virginia, and in any other newspapers and publications should they deem it necessary, for proposals for materials, and they shall do said grading, paving and curbing by day labor, or if in their opinion the best interests of the City Council will be subserved thereby by contract under bond, after advertisement as hereinbefore provided for materials.

Section 2. Be it further ordained that the said Committee on Streets shall not begin said work or purchase any materials or let any contract pertaining to said work until an amount equivalent to seventy-five cents ($0.75) per front foot for three-fourths (3-4) of the linear feet of property on the said square has been voluntarily deposited with the City Treasurer for defraying a portion of the expense of said grading, paving and curbing.

Section 3. Be it further ordained that no curb shall be set and no grading or paving shall be done within six and three-fourths (6¾) feet of the curb line in front of any property for which the proportionate expense hereinbefore mentioned shall not be deposited with the City Treasurer either before or during the grading and paving of the center portion of said street directly in front of said property.

Section 4. Be it further ordained that the portion of the said street in front of any property which may not be curbed, graded and paved in the manner aforesaid, by reason of section 3 of this ordinance, shall, upon there being voluntarily deposited with the City Treasurer of an amount equivalent to the actual cost of labor and materials necessary to so curb, grade and pave in front of said property be so curbed, graded and paved.

Said voluntary deposits mentioned in this and the two preceding sections may be in cash or may be part cash and the balance in notes, as may be agreed upon by a majority of the Finance Committee of the City Council of Alexandria, the payment of said notes to be secured in a manner satisfactory to a majority of said committee.

Section 5. Be it further ordained that as said grading, paving and curbing is being done, the Auditor is authorized to draw warrants from time to time upon the treasurer of this city in an amount not to exceed fourteen hundred dollars ($1400) to pay for said grading, paving and curbing, and a sufficient amount of money for such purpose, not to exceed fourteen hundred dollars ($1400) is hereby appropriated.

Section 6 This ordinance shall be in force from its passage.

A SAD AFFAIR.

Her many friends in this city were shocked on Saturday evening upon receipt of a message from Portsmouth stating that Mrs. Brown, wife of Rev. Wm. A. Brown, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church in that city, had administered carbolic acid to her two little children and then had taken the poison herself. Mrs. Brown was formerly Miss Mary Ramsay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Wm. Ramsay, of this city, and has been married about five years. Mr. and Mrs. Ramsay left on the Norfolk boat Saturday night for Portsmouth, arriving there early yesterday morning. They telegraphed at once that there were strong hopes that Mrs. Brown and her children would recover.

The following account of the sad affair is taken from the Norfolk Landmark:

While temporarily insane, Mrs. Mary Brown, wife of Rev. William Ambrose Brown, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Portsmouth, administered carbolic acid to her eight-months'-old daughter, Mary, and to her little son, William, aged 3, and then swallowed a portion of the poison herself. The deed was committed at her home at 115 Washington street Saturday afternoon while her husband had gone out to summon a doctor. Mr. Brown returned after an absence of not more than half an hour and was horrified to find his entire family at the point of death. On the bed in her chamber lay the mother, with the baby lying in its crib by the bedside, while the little boy was stretched upon the floor. All were unconscious.

The room smelled strongly of carbolic acid, and Mr. Brown divining the nature of the tragedy at a glance, rushed to a telephone and summoned half a dozen doctors. Everything possible to save the lives of the three sufferers was done by Drs. Parrish, Hatton, Holladay, Grice and Jarrett, who responded to the call for assistance. After a couple of hours Mrs. Brown was revived, and the little boy was also brought to, and the doctors administered oxygen in hopes of reviving the little girl, who seemed to be dying. The treatment told, and in the course of the evening the physicians said that there had been a distinct improvement in the baby's condition. It was also said that while Mrs. Brown and William were still in a precarious state, the chances were favorable for Mrs. Brown's recovery, and that William would almost certainly pull through.

There was absolutely no cause for the commission of the awful deed, except the disordered state of the unfortunate lady's mind. For several weeks she had been in a highly nervous and a depressed mental state, and Mr. Brown had made arrangements to take her for a month's stay in the western part of the State, intending to leave tomorrow. There was the utmost devotion between the young rector and his wife and children.

Mrs. Brown has been under the care of Dr. Grice for the past couple of weeks and it was to Dr. Grice's office that Mr. Brown went.

On recovering consciousness Mrs. Brown told her husband what she had done. She had first administered the drug to the two children, but the little boy fought against swallowing the fiery liquid, and the first dose was spilled upon his arm, neck and breast, which are severely burned. She then attempted to give a second dose, but the child fortunately rejected most of the poison.

At the time of the commission of the deed there was no one in the house, besides Mrs. Brown and the children and the colored cook, and the latter, busy with her preparations for dinner, heard nothing to attract her attention to the upper part of the house, where the deed was enacted.

Mrs. Brown, before her marriage, five years ago, was a Miss Ramsay, of Alexandria, Va., and her husband is a native of Danville. She is extremely attractive both in appearance and manner, and shares almost equally with her husband in the love of his congregation, and of a large acquaintance outside of the congregation of St. John's. News of the misfortune which had fallen on the family spread rapidly, carrying consternation and grief.

A dispatch from Portsmouth dated last night says. Mrs. Brown and her two children are still alive, although their condition is described as desperate. The little boy, William, 3 years old, has a better chance of recovery than either of the other victims. But little of the poison got down his throat, he having succeeded in spitting most of it out, as is shown by the great burns around his mouth. It is thought that the infant, Mary, 8 months old, would die.

Mrs. Brown is conscious at times, but her mind appears to be seriously affected. She took a large dose of the poison herself, and even should she by chance survive it is improbable that she will ever get well again. A friend of Mrs. Brown stated that the rector's wife's recent troubles are responsible for the unbalancing of her mind. Chief among her troubles was the illness of her husband. Suffering from diphtheria, he was at the point of death for many days. She brooded over his illness. For several weeks she has been in a highly nervous state, and Mr. Brown had made arrangements to take her for a month's stay in the western part of the state, intending to leave today. There was the utmost devotion between the young rector and his wife and children. Mrs. Brown had been under the care of Dr. Grice for the past couple of weeks.

RESOLUTIONS IN REGARD TO W. F. WATSON.

At the morning service at the First Baptist Church yesterday the following preamble and resolutions adopted by the South Street Baptist Church, Portsmouth, relative to the resignation of Rev. W. F. Watson, who is to assume charge of the First Baptist Church here August 1st, were read and ordered placed upon the record of the church.

Whereas our beloved pastor, Bro. W. F. Watson, feels called upon, under the guiding influence of the Holy Spirit, to return to the church the responsibilities involved in the pastorate of the same, and has so expressed himself in a formal resignation to become effective July 31st, 1908, and

Whereas we feel most keenly the departure of one whose labors have been most abundant and efficient in building up every department of our church life, be it therefore resolved—

1. That we very reluctantly and sadly acquiesce in the wish of our pastor and accept the resignation to become effective July 31, 1908.

2. That we commend him the tender mercy and loving care of our Father God, and pray that in his new field God may constitute his everlasting portion and his glory furnish the inspiration for great and efficient service.

3. That our best love and wishes go with him and his family to their new home.

4. That we commend him to the loving care and kindly consideration of our sister church as a faithful minister of Jesus Christ, a devoted and impartial pastor of the entire congregation, an earnest preacher of a full and glorious gospel, adequate to the demands of the human life, and most earnestly pray that his fellowship and labors with the Alexandria Church may be as sympathetic, harmonious and successful as with us.

5. That there is absolutely no reason for his going save his vision and conviction that a larger field and greater usefulness await him.

6. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the pastor, the First Baptist Church of Alexandria, and spread upon the minutes of our church.

TO PASS AROUND THE CITY?

It is again reported that the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway Company is making preliminary arrangements for running trains around this city instead of through the streets, as at present, and that passengers from Alexandria or those landed here will be transported in and out of the city by the car now used for street service. It is said that a route has been surveyed and pegs set in a southerly direction from a point in the neighborhood of the Stone bridge, and that the tracks will follow Hooff's run to the embankment of the old Manassas Gap independent line from which they will run easterly until they intersect with those at the north end of the company's bridge over Hunting creek. This report has been circulated in by-gone years, and it is believed by many persons that the route described above will be adopted ultimately.

DISORDERLY NEGRO.

John Grafford, colored, of Washington, was arrested by Officer Nicholson yesterday afternoon at the instance of employees of the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Electric Railway, charged with improper conduct on a train. Grafford was ejected from cars at several points in Alexandria county yesterday for disorderly conduct and using profane and abusive language, the last place being Braddock Heights, where it is alleged he was struck on the head with a stick after he had insulted several women who were waiting at the station for a car. Grafford was knocked to the ground where he lay for a short while, but finally got up, and after moving away some distance continued his abuse of every one within sight. Grafford was turned over to Constable Burch, of Alexandria county, this morning.

They expect to have two sales at their store weekly and will pay strict attention to all business intrusted to them. Mr. Bontz is a well-known citizen, having been employed at the Southern Railway shops until about a year ago when ill health compelled him to relinquish his occupation. Mr. Mount comes from a neighboring county highly recommended as a straightforward business man and one who thoroughly understands the auction business. With men like Messrs. Bontz and Mount at the head of a general auction store we predict its success.

CASE POSTPONED.

Argument in the injunction proceedings instituted by the new Company G, Seventieth regiment, to gain possession of the armory on south Royal street, was to have been heard by Judge Louis C. Barley, of the Corporation Court, today, but by agreement of all parties concerned the case was postponed to another date. Mr. Samuel G. Brent will represent the old company and Messrs. Norton & Boothe will appear for the new organization.

ANOTHER CARGO OF ICE.

The four masted schooner Elwin R. Hunt, from the Kennebec, has arrived with a cargo of ice for the Mutual Ice Co. Over half a dozen large schooners have arrived here during the present summer with the best quality of Kennebec ice, but consumers in Alexandria, it is claimed are debarred from the use of the same, they being supplied with a manufactured product of an inferior quality, which often imparts a disagreeable taste to water. The officials of the company have had their attention called to this injustice, and they have announced their intention of bringing about more satisfactory conditions.

HOT SUNDAY.

The weather bureau on Saturday predicted cooler weather in this section, as well as in all the other districts, and many persons during the sultry conditions of that night tossed to and fro with the hope that changed conditions would welcome them yesterday morning. They were, however, doomed to disappointment, as the day broke sultry and continued so throughout, the mercury being well up into the nineties. The wind was from the northwest, but it was by no means refreshing, and at the close of the day it died out entirely.

DEATH OF MR. McLEOD.

Intelligence was received in this city yesterday of the death in Cincinnati of Mr. Albert D. McLeod, formerly of Baltimore. Mr. McLeod was well known here, where he married Miss Georgie A. Hough, eldest daughter of the late Edward S. Hough. He was in the 72nd year of his age and leaves one daughter, his wife having died about four or five years ago.

The sailing yacht Wasp, owned by Mr. Courtland Peyton, with her owner and a party of his friends aboard, has sailed on a cruise on the lower Potomac. Colonial Beach, Coltons and other resorts will be visited. The party will be about a week on the cruise.

It was reported this morning that a lady named Wells, living in this city, was knocked down by a street car at Pennsylvania avenue and Eleventh street, Washington, yesterday. It was said that she had an infant in her arms at the time. No one in this city could be found today to corroborate the report.

The morning services at St. Paul's Church yesterday were conducted by Thomas Duncan. The pulpit at the First Baptist Church was occupied by Rev. Richard R. Reidel. The pulpits of the other churches were occupied by the resident clergy. The congregations at most of the churches were rather small owing to the warm weather.

First Silver Wedding.

The first silver wedding dates back to the time of Hugues Capet. The servants, says Home Chat, belonging to him had grown gray in his service, a man and a woman, and what could be do as a reward? Calling the woman, he said: "Your service is great, greater than the man's, whose service is great enough, for the woman always finds work harder than a man, and therefore I will give you a reward. At your age I know of none better than a dowry and a husband. The dowry is here—this farm from this time forth belongs to you. If this man, who has worked with you five and twenty years, is willing to marry you, then the husband is ready."

"Your majesty," said the old peasant, "how is it possible that we should marry, having already silver hairs?"

"Then it shall be a silver wedding." And the king gave the couple silver enough to keep them in plenty.

This soon became known all over France and raised such enthusiasm that it became a fashion after twenty-five years of married life to celebrate a silver wedding.

The Treasury Vaults.

The first question the average visitor to the United States treasury building asks is, "Couldn't burglars tunnel under the vaults and rob the government?" Well, that is not likely. An armed guard sits beside the vaults. Every twenty minutes he is required to ring an alarm just to show that he is awake. An armed patrol makes the rounds hourly. Secret service men in plain clothes, with concealed weapons, keep watch and ward outside and inside the building. As to tunneling, the officials hold that if a man by any possibility should manage to bore underneath a vault the heavy metal would crush him to a jelly, thus administering a lasting gold cure. Even if the tunnel burglar should get away with his life he could not get away with much gold. Ten thousand dollars in double eagles weighs thirty-eight pounds. Forty million dollars in gold certificates of the $10,000 denomination weighs eleven and a half pounds. Even burglars prefer the gold certificates to the real thing.—Buffalo Times.

Journalistic Revenges.

The curious boycott of the press in the Berlin parliament had a precedent in the mother of parliaments, the British house of commons. A writer in Harper's Weekly recalls that the person involved was no less a celebrity than the late Daniel O'Connell. He condemned the inaccuracy of the parliamentary reports, but he forgot to make allowance for acoustic difficulties and the buzz of intervening conversation. He charged the reporters with the malicious suppression of his speeches, and the gallery then refused to report him at all. Dan stormed and thundered in vain, even moving that the ringleaders be brought to the bar of the house. Finally he apologized, and all was well. Lord Lyttleton in 1871 fell foul of the press in the same way, and the late Lord Monteagle had his name omitted from London newspaper reports for two years because he said something the reporters did not like.

A Misplaced Pin.

"I was in an uptown tea room where the scenery is all out of proportion to the amount served you," said a New York clubman. "I was dallying with some ice cream when my spoon struck a common, everyday pin in the bottom of the frozen stuff. I gave a little wave, and a waiter slipped to my side. 'See, a pin in this ice cream,' I said. 'Why, I might have swallowed that.' He took the glass and disappeared. When he returned he reminded me of an undertaker, he was that solemn. 'That pin has lost a man his job, sir,' he said. 'Well,' I replied, 'I am sorry for that, but it might have cost me my life, when you come to think of it.' 'Yes, sir,' said the waiter meekly. Then, 'You see, sir, most of the folks that eats here just sips their ice cream and don't chew it.'"—New York Times.

Growth of Pity.

No one formerly looked on with any pity or even horror at punishments which are now found too dreadful for description. Men were broken on the wheel, were burned at the stake, were racked, were cut up alive. No one seems to have felt any pity for their agonies. Men were put into noisome prisons, where, with bad air and insufficient food, they died unnoticed and unpitied. It is very different now. Human hearts are more tender.

She Voted.

"What was the topic of debate in our club today?" asked one member of the feminine society.

"The topic of debate," was the response. "Why—er—let me see—I can't remember what the topic was. But I voted on either the positive or negative side of the question. I forget which."—Washington Star.

The Problem Solved.

Newed—My wife has a habit of taking money from my pockets when I'm asleep. Oldwed—Mine used to do that, too, but she doesn't any more. Newed—How do you prevent it? Oldwed—I spend every cent I have before I go home.—Chicago News.

An Exception.

"Ah, kind friend," said the minister, "it is deeds, not words, that count."

"Oh, I don't know," replied the woman. "Did you ever send a telegram?"—Detroit Free Press.

Cheering.

Aspirant—You have heard my voice, professor. Now please tell me candidly what branch of vocalism it is best adapted for. Professor—Well—cheering!

"E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill.—Gentlemen—In 1897 I had a disease of the stomach and bowels. In the spring of 1902 I bought a bottle of Kodol and the benefit I received all the gold of Georgia could not buy. May you live long and prosper. Yours very truly, C. N.
